What Japanese souvenir boxes teach about gifting

01

Made to be shared

Omiyage are usually individually wrapped, so one box goes round the whole office.

How omiyage are designed

Count — Clear pack sizes to match your team

Place — Where you went, printed on the box

Location — Sold in stations and airports

Gift-ready — No extra wrapping needed

02

Design for the giver

Some products are bought to be given away.

The person handing it over is your customer too.

- Can it be shared?
- Does it say where it’s from?
- Can it be given as it is?

Ask who your customer is really buying for.

Taking a Western brand into Japan, Korea or wider APAC?
